Irresistible Learning Topic – Intrepid Invaders

- Imagine you live on a small island with the rest of your family almost 2000 years ago. Life is hard. Farming food is difficult as the land is not very good. There may not be enough food to feed everyone comfortably.
- You have an extremely difficult decision to make...

Option 1 - You stay where you are and try your best to survive.	Option 2 - You take a boat and go exploring.	Option 3 - You know of an island nearby that should be free from enemies.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Life will be hard. You may go hungry. Some people may die of starvation. You don't have to move or travel very far. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> A lot of the world has been mapped out. You might find a new land somewhere but there are no guarantees. You might find nothing at all. There is a huge chance that many of you won't survive the journey, especially as you don't know where you are going or how long it would take. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> You tried invading this island before, but there we soldiers guarding it. You have heard that all these soldiers have left. You know the land is good for growing crops. It would take weeks of travel. You would need to move your entire family there.

Which one would you choose and why?

A free verse poem
 What Weeping Face by Walt Whitman
 What weeping face is that looking from the window?
 Why does it stream those sorrowful tears?
 Is it for some burial place, vast and dry?
 Is it to wet the soil of graves?

This poem is written in free verse. Try writing your own free verse poem. It doesn't have to rhyme or use a structure like other poems. Use the theme Autumn to help you.
