Scene 7 – A Mad Tea Party
 The Mad Hatter, the March Hare and Alice are sitting at a table having afternoon tea.

Narrator: Look and lovely Alice continued towards the sound. She didn't know what to expect when she reached a doorway...

Alice enters the scene, stage left

Alice: I'd like for a moment, please and a brand you appears across her path. He gets up out of his chair and walks across the table towards Alice.

Mad Hatter: It's you. (exasperated)

Dormouse: (squeezes and throws his hands against his head) No it's not! Here brought us the wrong Alice.

Hare: You're absolutely Alice, I'd know you anywhere.

Mad hatter: Oh the real of the characters of the table! It's the wrong Alice!

Alice: I'd love tea tonight!

Dormouse and Hare laugh merrily

Alice: Well, so you can see we're all having tea. You're hardly late you know, really.

Alice: I'm awfully obliged.

Irresistible Learning Topic –Pharaohs and Pyramids

History: Why was farming important to the ancient Egyptians?

The River Nile was extremely important to the success of the Egyptian civilisation. Visit BBC Bitesize (click here) to learn more about how the Nile helped them to grow food.

Task: Describe how the Ancient Egyptians used the River Nile.

- Click here for an additional video with further facts and information.

You can focus on farming or you can think about other things that the Nile provided: fresh water, fishing, transportation. How are these things different or similar to what they might have today? Remember – facts and information about similar points can be organised using subheadings.

French: Copy and learn these months below in French.

juillet = July août = August septembre = September octobre = October novembre = November décembre = December. Write each month out neatly-remember the name of each month doesn't start with a capital letter as it does in English! Draw a picture of an object that reminds you of each month e.g. a Christmas tree for December.
